THEY PLAYED AGAINST LUCK

Indianapolis Unsuccessful in the First Game of the Pittsburg Series.

The Chicagos Defeat Detroits and Resume the Lead-Boston Is Shut Out by Washington -Philadelphia Wins from New York.

It was about the liveliest game yesterday, that between Indianapolis and Pittsburg, ever won on the ball field. The visitors bunched seven of sheir nine hits in two innings, thus getting five runs. The batting of the home team was much better, but it lacked the element of luck. The fielding of both teams was sharp-especially the visitors, who had the hardhitting to contend against. The team batted hard enough to have easily won the game in the ninth inning, but did not even secure a run. Hines led off with a hard line hit to left. Then Glasscock drove a hard liner squarely into Beckley's hands at first base, and a double play followed. Beckley did not move out of his tracks. He could not have done so and gotten in front of the ball which was hit with great force. Nevertheless the eatch was not particularly a good one, as it same squarely toward him and was waist the hit been two or three it would have been hit and the would have been on second and third, with no one out. Bassett, the third batter, drove the ball against the right field netting, which would have sent in Hines and Glasscock, tieing the score. Esterbrook also made a single, and there would thus have been men on second and first before any one was out. McGeachy, the fifth batter, gave a foul fly to Beekley. It was a case of very hard luck for Indianapolis, which should have had the game on the merits of the playing. Staley, the Pittsburgs' new pitcher, occupied home club batted him fairly hard, they are doing that now off every pitcher whom they face. Staley is strongly built, has a quick delivery, which makes base-running by his opponents hazardous. He has also great speed and good curves. As he becomes familiar with the weaknesses of the League hitters he will make a great pitcher. Beckley, the first-baseman, is a fine player-at least in field. He is tall and active, and has the actions of a good ball-player in every way. Boyle was very averse to going in the box yesterday, on account of his arm being sore, and to this fact, perhaps, the lively manner in which the visitors started out to hit him may be attributable. The home players certainly started off encouragingly enough.

After Seery had sent a fly to Coleman, Denny got a base on balls. Hines made a fine line drive to right, and then Denny gave a great exhibition of base-running. Hines tried to make two bases on his hit, but Coleman's su-perb throw caught him at second base. Denny, in the meantime, was making for the plate, and he reached there in safety by means of a great alide. Glasscock kept up the enthusiasm by a two-bagger, and it was redoubled when Bassett hit to right-center for two bases more, sending Glasscock in with the second run. This was a splendid startoff, and nobody expected the Pittsburgs to bat Boyle hard enough to overcome it, but they did so. Miller began with a two-bagger, and Dalrymple sent him to third with a lucky single. Then Coleman drove a terriffic liner to far center field, of which Hines made one of the best catches ever seen on the ball field. Beckley got a base on balls, and then Dunlap sent Dalrymple home with a hit against the right field netting; but Sunday and Kuehne were re-

the box and pitched excellently, for while the

Neither side did any initting in the third. In the fourth the visitors won the game. After two outs Beckley made a two-bagger and Dunlap batted the ball over the right-field fence for a home run. Sunday followed up with a two-bag-ger and stole third, scoring on Kuehne's single. This gave three runs—a lead which the home club did not succeed in overcoming, although the visitors could do nothing more whatever with Boyle. The home players did some injudicious base-running on two or three occasions. In the fifth Myers, the first batter, got a base on balls. One run would have done the home club no earthly good, and yet he tried to steal second, and failed. In the sixth Hines, after one out, got in a hit, and went to third on Glasscock's single. He scored on Miller's throw to second, when Glasscock started to steal, the ball being returned too late, although the decision was close. Then Glasscock tried to steal third, and was thrown out, although this decision was also very close.

Boyle opened the eighth with a hit, but after Seery had fouled out Boyle tried to go to second on a short passed ball and spoiled another chance for runs. Following is the score:

DETROIT. July 19.-The champions were unable to do anything with Chicago's left-handed pitcher to-day until the last inning, and then, by a stupid piece of base-running, threw away their chances. Campau led off in this inning with a double, and was advanced a base on a passed ball. Hanlon batted a fly to short left-field, and on trying to score on it Campau was thrown out at the plate. Two singles, a double and another single followed in succession, and three runs, or one less than enough to tie the game, were the

WASHINGTON, 2; BOSTON, 0. WASHINGTON, July 19 .- The Washingtons played a faultless fielding game to-day and backed up O'Day's great pitching so effectively that the Bostons failed to get a man beyond second base. Clarkson also pitched an excellent game, but his support was not so good. O'Day was presented with a handsome diamond ring when he took his position in the box at the beginning of the first inning, the gift of some local admirers. Score:

PHILADELPHIA, 7: NEW YORK, 1. PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—The Philadelphias checked New York's giants this afternoon by better batting and cleaner fielding. Buffinton pitched a strong, steady game, and his support was all that could be desired. Welch was effective to the seventh inning, when he became rattled by the ragged work of his support and was touched up for five singles and three doubles. Secret Base-Ball Notes. Pittsburg did some great fielding yesterday. Boyle struck out Miller, Dalrymple and Beckey in the sixth.

Coleman's catches in right were a decided featare of the game. Midget Miller's catching was a great feature of yesterday's game. The little fellow is a great ball-player.

In a game at Worthington, yesterday, the Worthington club defeated Bloomfield by score of 14 to 13. Staley's home is in Springfield, Ill., and a number of the visitors to the city from that place witnessed yesterday's game. President J. T. Brush returned home yesterday morning, and had the pain in the afternoon of witnessing the home club's defeat. Mr. Young, of the base-ball League, bas received favorable answers from the members of the executive committee in regard to the appointment of a fifth umpire, and has designated Mr. C. B. Powers, of Newcastle, Pa., who will be stationed at Pittsburg. Esterbrook yesterday made one of the best plays seen here this season. With a runner on first, in the fifth inning, he made a great stop of Dunlap's liner, and picking up the ball beat at the stop that he did not cover first. Dunlap played one of his masterly games at second base yesterday. In the eighth inning, when Boyle was on first, he purposely dropped Seery's fly-just why was not clear, but the in-tention was so daring that Lynch called out the batter, which led Glasscock to shout out to Dunlap, "Tricky player."

The Indianapolis and Pittsburg clubs play their second contest of the present series this afternoon. Healy and Daily, and Morris and Carroll will probably be the batteries. The Indianapolis team now has but a very slight lead over Pittaburg, and if the latter should win today it would force ahead. The home players are confident, however, of winning the next

Wanted His Memory Respected. MIDDLETOWN, O., July 19.-By the death of Mr. Ephraim Miller, a wealthy bachelor in New York, Mrs. F. W. Russell and Dr. Wm. Hudson, both of Hartford, come into possession of $60,000 each. Mr. Miller was quite eccentric and had accumulated over $1,000,000, which was left to his heirs-at-law, as there was no will signed. A gentleman who was examining the papers left by Mr. Miller found an unsigned will which gave to Mrs. Russell and Dr. Hudson $180,000 each instead of the $60,000 each which they will receive by law. It seems that this will was made out one day last winter. While Mr. Miller was waiting for his attorney he read the account in a paper of the contest over a will left by an old friend. In this account his friend was maligned and his character traduced. Mr. Miller remarked that he knew his dead friend had been the soul of honor and that if such stories were to be circulated after a man was dead he would not leave any will, but let the law take its course. Owing to this circumstance Dr. Hudson and Mrs. Russell have a legacy of $120,000 less than they would otherwise have Burned by Sulphuric Acid. Sr. Louis, July 19.—A peculiar accident oc-curred at the Standard Theatre last night, resulting in the probably fatal burning of Ed Hill and Michael Dwyer, aged nineteen and twentyone, respectively, and the severe injury of several other attaches of the theatre. The men were engaged in fumigating the theatre with sulphuric acid, which Hill and Dwyer vere pouring from two stone jugs. Both jugs exploded at once, scattering the acid in every direction, saturating the clothing of the young men who were pouring the acid, and bespattering those standing near. Hill and Dwyer, nearly crazed with pain, ran through the streets, followed by a crowd, until caught by a policeman and taken to the city dispensary, where their burns were dressed and they were sent home. In their flight they had torn almost all their burning clothing off and reached the dispensary nearly nude. The other wounded men were able to go to the dispensary without assistance, but they are severely injured.

The Proposed Labor Amalgamation. PHILADELPHIA, July 19 .- Prominent labor leaders are reticent concerning the proposed amalgamation between railroad men and other classes of organized labor. Some, while admitting that the combination has been proposed, refuse to commit themselves. Two members of the Brotherhood of Firemen's executive committee favor the idea of all railroad men joining hands, but declare no one organization can answer the purposes of every class, and they will vote against such a measure if it shall be proposed at their convention. John W. Hayes, secretary of the executive board of the Knights of Labor, denied that any move that contemplated the organization of all labor was under way in the ranks of the Knights.

The Democratic Plan for Increasing the Prohibition Vote in Indiana.

Additional Information Concerning That National Convention of Colored Men-Democratic-Greenback Fusion in Michigan.

INDIANA'S PROHIBITION VOTE. How the Democrats Hope to Increase It at the November Election.

Special to the Indiapapolis Journal Washington, July 19 .- A Southern member of Congress who is in frequent consultation with President Cleveland and Secretary Whitney on the plans and issues of the approaching campaign said, to-day, that the Prohibition vote in Indiana at the approaching election would be twice as large as it was at the last election, and that therefore it would be at least eighteen or twenty thousand. With this clew, I set about to ascertain if the Democrats intended to take any open part in the management of the Prohibition campaign, and I have unmistakable proof that at least one-third of the money the Democrats intend to send into Indiana for campaign purposes will be used to push the candidacy of the Probibitionists. Senator Gorman said to a friend, the other day, that if the Probibition vote in Indiana could be increased this year in the ratio it was increased at the last election over that of the preceding election, the success in the State of the Democratic ticket was assurred, and that more depended upon the Prohibition vote for Democratic success than any other element of the campaign. It will be refreshing. also, for the Prohibitionists in other States to know that Democratic money is to be given in support of the temperance ticket in Connecticut and New Jersey. A Democratic Senator prod-ded a Republican colleague this afternoon on this point by saying: "You Republicans can never break the effectiveness of the Prehibition vote for the Demo-crats, because nine-tenths of the Prohibitionists are really Republicans, and if you attempt to despoil these Republicans of their Prohibition friends you will insult them and they will go over to the Democracy. We can organize the Prohibition party in any State and buy Republi can votes for it, and you cannot tell where we are working, or how we are doing our work, The Prohibitionists themselves do not know that their party is being largely supported by Democratic money. We send Democrats into their ranks and they become Prohibitionists and active participants in the party, and through them we contribute to the fund which maintains the Prohibition organization. We are sure to get 15,000 Prohibition votes in Indiana in November, and at least 12,000 of them will come from the Republican ranks."

A POLITICAL "FAKE."

More About That Coming National Convention of Colored Men.

Washington Special to Chicago News. "The independent convention of colored men," which is to be held at Indianapolis, next week, will be the political "fake" of the campaign. A colored Democrat is an unnatural thing, anyway, but this proposed convention is so apparent a fraud that decent Democrats ought to denounce it. The affair is being managed by Lycnrgus Dalton, of Indiana, the Postmaster of the House of Representatives, a shrewd political manipulator, who has been educated in the school of Voorhees, and was suggested by him for this business. He has been furnished with plenty of funds, and has sent agents through the South to hire delegates with black skins to attend the gathering. They will go to Indianapolis with their expenses paid and so much a day for their services, being pledged to vote and yell as they are told. The figureheads in the convention will be James Mathews, of Albany, the protege of the late Daniel Manning, who was nominated to succeed Fred Douglass as Recorder of Doeds of the District of Columbia, and rejected twice by the Senate; James Trotter, of Boston, who was afterward nominated to that office and con-firmed, and J. Milton Turner, of St. Louis, who was minister to Liberia under President Arthur. Mathews comes nearest to being a Democrat of any of the three. He was a barber in Albany, and was assisted by Mr. Manning to get an education, so that he followed him politically. Mr. Trotter was a Republican until four years ago, and a clerk in the Boston post-office, from which he was discharged for supporting General Butler for the presidency. He left Butler at once upon rement at the headquarters of the Democratic State committee, where he served as a messenger and porter to the end of the cam-paign. Since then he has been a Democratic boomer. J. Milton Turner, after returning from Liberia, undertook the management of a bill to reimburse the colored people in the Indian Territory for losses sustained by them during the war, and has since remained in Washington. He is understood to have entered into this "independent" movement for revenue only and to be well paid for permitting his name to be used as chairman of the committee on ortion announces that it is to be independent of all party influences and for the purpose of a free conference of colored voters as to their duty during the coming campaign, the expenses of the affair, including the transportation and hotel bills of the delegates, are paid by the Democratic national committee, and the organizers make no secret of their intention to declare for the Democratic ticket. All of the correspondence is being conducted by Mr. Trotter, a federal official, at his office, and his derks in office hours are engaged in writing letters at government expense to promote the movement, the President's civil-service order forbidding such "pernicious activity" to the contrary, notwith-

Democrats and Greenbackers Divide the Offices in Michigan. DETROIT. July 19 .- The Democratic State convention met at 11:45 o'clock this morning. Wm. P. Wells, of Detroit, was made temporary chairman, and F. H. Thomas, temporary secretary. After the calling of the roll to name the various committeemen and electors chosen by the district caucuses, this morning, Chairman Weston, of the State central committee, announced that he had received a telegram from the Greenbackers, who will meet in convention at Grand Rapids this afternoon, asking that a conference committee be appointed to confer with a similar committee from that body. The announcement was received with general favor, and a committee composed of a member from each congressional district was named. A recess was then taken until 2 o'clock. The convention reassembled at 2:40 o'clock. The temporary organization was made permanent. Neither the committee on resolutions nor that on conference was ready to report, and the time was passed in listening to a number of short speeches, including one by ex-Senator Judge Baldwin submitted the report of the committee on resolutions, reaffirming adhesion to the established principles of the Democratio party in national politics, and a hearty indorsement of President Cleveland's administration. The resolution also declares opposition to the position of the Republican party, and indorses the President's message and the St platform. The course Democratic Congressmen of Michigan, is also approved. The ownership of real estate by foreign corporations is denounced. Miners and those engaged in manufacturing occupations should be protected by proper legislation. All unearned railroad lands, especially those in the Upper Peninsula, should be forfeited. Home rule is declared to be a cardinal principle of the Democratic party, and therefore sympathy is expressed with the Irish in their struggle for the control of their homes.

The conference committee reported an agreement with the committee at Grand Rapids for a division of the ticket, the Greenbackers taking the attorney-generalship, auditorship, Commissioner of the Land Office, and three electors. After a brief discussion the report was cordially It was after 8 when the convention reassembled. The eight electors chosen by the district caucuses were nominated without opposition. Wellington R. Burt, of Saginaw, was nominated for Governor by acclamation. The ticket was completed as follows:

Lieutenant-governor, Wm. B. Moran; Secretary of State, Thomas D. Hawley; State Treasurer, John D. Norton; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Stuart Mackibben; State Board of Education, Charles E. King.

The Greenbackers at Grand Rapids completed the tisket by nominating A. A. Ellis for Attor-

The last named voted for Harrison in 1840, but has since voted the Democratic ticket. He joined the club at its organization, saying that he not only intended to vote for General Ben Harrison, but that he would work for his election. Mr. Butts is an influential Democrat, is a business man, and, although of a retiring disposition, carries great weight with him. There are several veteran Democrats who have stated that they would join the Tippecance Club at its next meeting.

Columbus, July 19.—Columbus has quite a number of old veterans who voted for William Henry Harrison in 1840, and who will vote for Ben Harrison in 1888. They want to organize is a club and pay a visit to the man who will be the next President of the United States. They are very anxious for the campaign, and say that it gives them great pleasure to be able to vote as they did in 1840. Then it was Harrison and protection; now it is Harrison and protection, too. Below is a partial list of the names of those old veterans, Eber eyer Davis, Jonathan Kansas Prohibitionists. HUTCHINSON, Kan., July 19 .- The Prohibition State convention closed its labors to-day. The platform, as read by John P. St. John, chairman of the committee, was adopted. It advocates woman suffrage, government control of telegraph and railroads, reduction of the surplus, repeal of tariff laws, and absolute prohibition of the liquor traffic. The following ticket was placed in nomination: Governor, Rev. J. D. Botkin, of Wichita; Lieutenant-governor, R. J. Freely, of Abilene; Secretary of State, L. V. McIntire, of Dodge City; State Treasurer, R. M. Slonaker, of Anderson county; Auditor, Rev. Gabriel Burdett, a colored man, of Marshall county: Attorney-general, Stanton A. Olathe. Suffrage in the Platform.

Indiana Christian Advocate. Beginning with 1872 the Republican national platforms have contained resolutions favorable to female suffrage until the platform of 1888. Whether the omission this year was because of the bitter abuse heaped upon the Republican party by the leaders of female suffrage, or whether it was to preserve the pool of politics from such methods of conducting campaigns as these women have lately developed, we are not prepared to say. It is well, however that it was omitted.

Helping the Republicans. New York Mail and Express

We predict that the Democratic record on free wool, as made in the House yesterday, will do more to inspre the election of Harrison and Morton than all the Republican campaign speeches that will be made between now and November.

Shocking Accident-So read the headlines of many a newspaper column, and we peruse with palpitating interest the details of the catastrophe, and are deeply impressed with the sacrifice of human lives involved. Yet thousands of men and women are failing victims every year to that terrible dis-ease, consumption (scrofula of the lungs), and they and their friends are satisfied to believe the malady incurable. Now: there could be no greater mistake. No earthly power, of course, can restore a lung that is entirely wasted, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will rapidly and surely arrest the ravages of consumption, if taken in time Do, not, therefore, despair until you have tried this wonderful recovery.
